About the WHO-HPH Schools

The WHO-HPH Schools are yearly recurring events (summer, autumn and winter) that target National / Regional HPH Coordinators, HPH Hospital / Health Service Coordinators, HPH Task Force Leaders & Members as well as other interested health care providers and administrators.

The WHO-HPH Schools are opportunities to gain practical insight into the field of Health Promotion in Hospitals & Health Services.

At the 2011 WHO-HPH Summer School in Turku, we will be dealing with the WHO-HPH Recognition Process for Health Promotion in Hospitals and Health Services, the various elements that make up the process, the practical experiences with using it, as well as the support mechanisms in place and the scientific study that will evaluate the international application of the process.

We look forward to seeing you in Turku or at one of the many future WHO-HPH Schools.
